Britt Salver, born in 1946

My art is inspired by the life I've been part of and still am... – and my life is and has been just as normal as everybody else's lives. Human beings have so much in common. I want the viewer to be emotionally touched somehow by "reading" my art works. I do acrylic on canvas, and I create series of art works.

One headline is THINKING - which has many subtitles, such as Childhood Lasts Forever, Alone and Together, Look at Me. Another headline is CYCLING PASSION - which also has different subtitles..., Exploring, We Love Cycling, Female Cycling... You will find people in most of my works, people of all ages. Sometimes nature takes over, or the two of them interfere with each other.

Monochrome painting, colors, black and white, it all depends on what I want to express.

The size of an art works also matters, a large scale face tells another story than a small one does. And of course I create small paintings to carry on your bike.

Water colors, prints, and mixed media are also part of my artistic works.

My studio and my home is my gallery. Welcome – Britt Salver
