Lovewood is a Danish design company that has emerged as a result of the meeting between the designer and the craftsman.

The products have a unique, functional and timeless design, produced and designed in Denmark at Lovewood's workshop. Hand crafted with solid Danish wood.

The three legs in Danish oak – come in different type of surfaces.

The legs are interlaced with leather cord, to expose the lines of the northern star.

The seat is gently hollowed and upholstered in leather.

Thule stool is simple, Nordic and modern.

Thule stool inspired by the old eskimos, sitting on the ice fishing for hours.

The graphic supporting lines – once made from leather and tied to functional hunting instruments – integrate with nature, lending the piece to Scandinavian tradition. The original chairs were used for ice fishing, and could be folded for traveling. Thule is inspired by a piece gifted to the designer's grandfather in the 1960's whilst working as a doctor in Greenland.
