The artist Ali Çağlayan is a true colourist who masters several styles – abstract fantasies, fabulating landscapes or something different all together.

In his workings, the interplay of the different colours transforms the blank canvas into a work of art. With a true and persistent passion for colours, which is his perpetual source of inspiration, he continues to work with a true commitment. One could easily write many more words about his paintings - but it's not necessary. They speak for themselves to the onlookers with their own silent colourful language.
