

Rafaela Silva Portugal

I'm born in Africa, with my roots in Azores Islands and having lived in Europe and Asia, I consider myself a true citizen of the world. I love people, tribes, different cultures, so rich in their diversity. Making connection between human and spiritual emotions, with the principles of ecology and sustainability. So privileging the simple, the contact with nature, natural materials, the colors of the earth. I bring all this passion to my painting, always searching for new techniques and materials, wanting to evolve always, without frontiers.
