photos, from newspapers and so on, after which the process of associating, composing, pasting, painting, layer over layer, brushing sanding, and building up again occurs.

With each new layer, it seeks new forms through combinations of painting, collage, screen printing and transfer, to create depth, sharpening and blurring.

Life is characterized by an abundance of emotionally stressful moments, to create her own world, to handle the chaos, she seeks a manageable experience.

Her fascination is above all emotion as a universal fact, independent of culture, race and zeitgeist, a fixed factor in human life. Thea collects images, from the internet, personal
